

Looks like just a matte black iron ball? It is actually a Yamagata casting ashtray, the second in the "rolo" lineup. The weight and the unique feel of it tell you the quality of the casting iron and the genuine Urushi lacquer finish. The modest but strong presence will be a nice accent to your tabletop. The ashtray consists of 3 parts and the inner lid is reversible. One side of the inner lid is for one cigarette and the other is for two. Upper lid has a round hole on top, which prevents smoke from spreading around.

rolo011

- use / ashtray
- materials/ cast iron, Urushi lacquer
- size/ ø110×H100mm
- weight/ 1500g
- design/ Toshiyuki Matsudaira
- traditional craft/ Yamagata casting (Yamagata), hand-made
- origin/ Japan

* Top lid can be removed when used by more than two people. * The reversible inner lid.